Jenni,

Attached are talking points I've drafted with Noelle's input in preparation for the environmental justice forum this Friday evening. It's actually a two-day event, but the session I'll participate in sets up dialogue between community members and state representatives. Community members will have time to speak to various issues of concern, and then state reps will each have 3 minutes to respond. I am one of about 10 state people on the dais, so my comments are designed to be brief. I had a prep call with the organizer earlier this week to get a sense of the expectations, tone, and history of this annual event. The attachment includes my opening comments and prepared response on issues expected to come up. Sheila and others from DEQ can speak to detailed questions on each topic, e.g., GenX, coal ash, ACP, landfills.... Look forward to any input you have.
